Kidnapping suspects arrested by police

BELLE GLADE - An automobile chase early Tuesday morning in Belle Glade resulted in the apprehension of two individuals suspected in the shooting of one police officer and the kidnapping of another, according to Inspector Mike Miller.

Ricky Joiner, 29, and Eliane McKnight, 26, both believed to be from the Orlando area, were arrested and charged with two counts of grand theft.

Joiner was also charged with running a red light and fleeing and attempting to elude the police. They are being held at Palm Beach County Jail in lieu of $50,000 bail.

According to Miller, the two will also be facing one charge of abduction, two counts of attempted murder, one of armed robbery, one of aggravated assault, one attempted abduction, and one abduction charge from Broward County authorities.

According to Miller, the two robbed a convenient store in Altamont Springs late Monday night. They knocked out the clerk with a bottle and fled south.

A Sunrise police officer recognized the vehicle from a bulletin and attempted to stop them at about 2 a.m. The officer and Joiner are alleged to have engaged in scuffle and the officer was shoved to the ground and his gun taken from him.

Joiner is alleged to have used the gun to shoot the officer once in the shoulder. He attempted to shoot him again but hit the officer's radio instead, according to Miller.

"Apparently they decided the car was probably hot," said Miller.

The two drove to Parkland where they knocked on a door and abducted the resident, who turned out to be a Parkland police officer, according to Miller.

"They did not know that until he got away," said Miller.

The two told the Parkland officer they were going to kill him, according to Miller. They pulled off the road at the Boca Raton exit of route 95, and ordered him into the car trunk. The officer refused and successfully fled, according to Miller.

From there, the two drove to Belle Glade where Belle Glade Patrolman Dwayne Mayo recognized the automobile from a bulletin.

Mayo pursued the vehicle through the 600 block of South East Fourth Street. The suspects attempted to make a U-turn and head back towards the police cruiser, according to Miller.

Mayo ended up behind the individuals and fired a warning shot before apprehending them.

Detective John Carney is in charge of the Belle Glade investigation, said Miller.

Man confesses to murder

PAHOKEE - A Pahokee man who confessed to the murder of his girlfriend is in custody without bond, according to Palm Beach Sheriff's Detective Steve Haller.

Bill Brinson Jr., 26, of 791 Palm Blvd., Pahokee sent the Pahokee Police Department a letter confessing to the murder of Phyllis R. Council, 18, 685 Whidden Road, Pahokee along with a map to the sugar cane field where her body was located.

The note, which Brinson had delivered by a friend Wednesday, Oct. 28, led police to a cane field on Padgett Island where they found the badly decomposed body of the victim.

Brinson was on his way to Palm Beach when he was apprehended. Police apprehended him in Royal Palm Beach where he had stopped to repair a flat tire. He told police he was on his way to Palm Beach to surrender.

Brinson made his first appearance before Judge Don Adams, who found probable cause and ordered him held until a grand jury reconvenes to hear the case, according to Haller.

He is being held in Palm Beach County Jail without bail and is represented by the public defender, according to Haller.

According to Haller, Brinson confessed to murdering Council on October 12, 1981, when her relatives reported her missing.

The next morning, he had appeared before Palm Beach County Judge Don Adams to plead guilty to a previous assault on Council.

Garbage rate hiked

By JEFF BROWN

SOUTH BAY - The South Bay City Commission Wednesday, November 3, approved a fee increase for the garbage service due to the opening of the Glades Transfer Station in Belle Glade.

The increase, which was expected, was budgeted and will not result in higher rates to individual households, according to Mayor Donald Tanner.

South Florida Sanitation has been collecting the refuse in South Bay at $1 per cubic yard.

The Glades Transfer Station, which is expected to open early next week, will accept garbage by

Cane milling season, Jamaicans arrive

By AILSA DEWING

The 1981-82 sugar harvest began Monday as scheduled with 2,400 Jamaicans recruited for the season and jobs held open for the 38 Haitians who walked off the job last month in a Farmworkers Rights Organization initiated dispute.

An injunction being sought by FRO through the U.S. District Court of Appeals in Miami to prevent the West Indian laborers from working appears to be stalled until a hearing date is set.

Last week the U.S. Department of Labor ruled that the FRO-backed walkout did not constitute a legitimate strike.

As the harvesting season began, four area mills were on-line including both the Clowiston and Bryant mills of U.S. Sugar Corp., Okaloosa and the Sugar Cane Growers Co-operative, both in Palm Beach County.

The Atlantic mill was to begin grinding Wednesday, Nov. 4, and the Osceola mill will start up in about 10 days, according to a survey made Tuesday by Chris Papanic of the Florida

Sugar Cane Growers League.

Florida's sugar industry is predicting the state will outstrip Hawaii's production this year and be the nation's number one producer. Florida producers expect some 1,184,000 tons of raw sugar from 12 million tons of cane to be harvested off 344,670 acres.

Belle Glade raises taxes due to error

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE - The Belle Glade City Commission raised its millage rate Wednesday, October 28, due to mistakes and readjustments by the county property appraisers which lowered the taxable property valuation of the area.

The readjusted property valuation would result in a deficit of almost $47,000 under the city's previously adopted millage rate of 6.63. The city commission had three days notice to either raise its millage rate to the level necessary to create the same amount of funds or leave the rate the same.

The commission raised the millage to 7.0342, the level necessary to generate the same revenues.

City attorney John Baker told the commissioners that state law required the city to either raise the rate to that level or leave it at the original rate.

"I doubt that we could use a millage rate in between, but I think it's outrageous that the law does not give us that flexibility. A rate in between wouldn't hurt anyone," said Mayor Thomas Altman.

"Like so many statutes, there is some ambiguity here," said Baker.

Altman urged the council to contact the legislative delegation and ask them to work towards changing the law.

The new millage rate translates to about $7.04 per thousand dollars of property valuation.

In an attempt to find areas to cut in the budget instead of raising the millage, Commissioner George Goforth suggested the recreation department be eliminated.

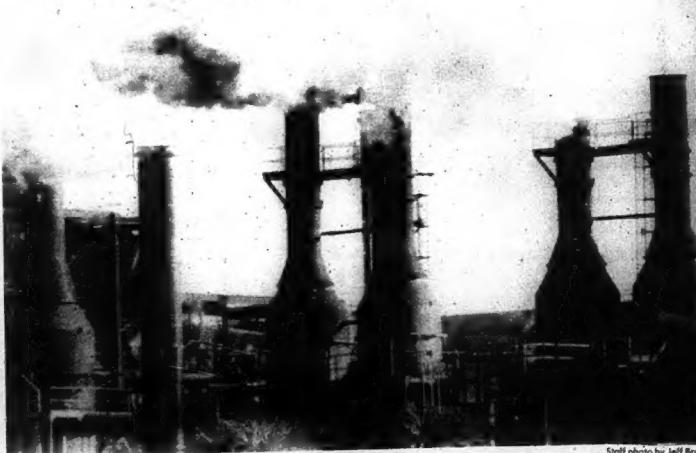

According to Goforth, the city will not be able to operate in the confines of the budget as it stands.

"I expect it be administered in the framework, don't you?" said Altman.

"We aren't going to live in the budget we have now unless we make some adjustments," Goforth said.

"Cutting the recreation department - that's far fetched," said Commissioner William Greer. "But I am running into other areas that could

Major Glades study planned

An intensive study of Glades agriculture by 24 professional and mid-management foreign service personnel from third world countries will take place Nov. 15-25, with Palm Beach Junior College Glades as the central coordinating point.

The participants have served five to 15 years in such places as Yemen, Niger, Cameroon, Kenya, Mali, Chad, Sri Lanka, Somalia, Tunisia, Pakistan, Mauritania, Swaziland, Zaire, Sierra Leone, Rwanda, Benin and other locations that remain only names on a map for most Americans.

The program is under the direction of Dr. Jerry Williams of the Agency for International Development, who will bring six other staff members from Washington, D.C. to act as faculty and staff for the study.

The purpose of the on site study is to provide an understanding of agricultural problems and procedures which will be helpful to an overseas worker.

After investigating labor, economics, socio-political involvements, water, land use and pollution control in the Glades, the group will develop a report which can serve as a reference document for use in AID offices for other workers to consult prior to foreign service in agricultural and developmental programs.

The group will arrive Nov. 15, and attend a reception that evening at the Holiday Inn, Belle Glade, where they will meet with farmers, growers, businessmen and professionals who live and work in Belle Glade and surrounding communities, according to Dr. Cecil Conley, provost of FBJC Glades.

On the morning of Nov. 16, a briefing has been scheduled at FBJC, with five Glades residents who have specific knowledge of the areas they will discuss, Dr. Conley said.

Covering local history will be Dr. J.R. Orensigen, past president of the Glades Historical Society, and a resident for 22 years.

Labor Recruitment will be discussed by Lester Dean, Jr., head of labor recruitment for Florida Fruit and Vegetable, Inc.

Labor Organizations will be discussed by Don Mason, attorney with Florida Rural Legal Services.

Agriculture and Soils will be the topic for Ken Shuler, Agricultural Extension Agent for western Palm Beach County.

Water Management and Lake Okechobee will be discussed by Dr. Wilbur Curless, now with the Palm Beach County school system developing programs that cover these subjects, and formerly with FBJC Glades.

A tour of the area will take place in the afternoon of Nov. 16.

The group will divide into six clusters, and the remainder of the week will work directly with the agencies, businesses, farms and individuals in and around Belle Glade, Pahokee and Clewiston.

The group assisting Dr. Williams, who is a geographer, include an anthropologist, an agricultural economist, a sociologist, a political economist, a specialist in public administration and an administrative assistant.

refreshment

for Olympics

Members of Xi Zeta Mu chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday, Oct. 26 at the home of Mrs. James Chambliss.

For a service project this month, the group will help with refreshments for the Special Olympic Games which will be held at Glades Central High School. Mrs. Charles Ward, social chairman announced plans for the group to attend the Burt Reynolds theatre for a matinee performance.

Members attending the meeting were Mrs. Frank Cochran, Mrs. Gene Enfinger, Mrs. Tom Swager, Mrs. Gordon Corbin, Mrs. J.D. Lee, III, Mrs. Chambliss and Mrs. Ward. Mrs. Chambliss presented a most interesting program on her recent trip to the New England states.

the ton, not the cubic yard, so adjustments had to be made in the fee the company charged the city, according to City Manager Max Harrelle.

The city and company had anticipated the change and expected the station to charge $15 per ton. That amount had been budgeted by the commission.

The rate approved by the Palm Beach County Solid Waste Authority is $21.70 per ton, however.

The commission approved a motion by Commissioner Sammy Rogers to pay the budgeted fee of $15 per ton plus the increase of $6.70 per ton over that amount, with the stipulation that a city employee will ride with the company for one week to determine the tonnage which is removed from South Bay.

"I don't believe we have to go up (in cost per household) to offset this cost," said Tanner. "The amount that he asked us for is still within the amount we have budgeted."

"I believe we ought to have a man ride with him for a week," said Vice-Mayor Ray Sullivan. "I think good business would be to get with him and approve one of our people. Make sure its only our garbage we are being charged for at the landfill."

South Florida Sanitation was asking the city to increase the amount it had budgeted from approximately $8,400 per week to about $9,400 per week to offset the added $6.70 per ton the Solid Waste Authority will charge over the expected $15 per ton.

According to Harrelle, the company derived its figures from a national average of 70 pounds of garbage per household per pick up. The company was planning on two pick ups per week for a total of 140 pounds of garbage per household per pick up.

Rogers said he thought the city should approve the tonnage rate but not the flat $1,000 increase just "because he asked for it."

Ray Rausch of South East Fourth Street, South Bay told the commission he would not mind paying an increase in garbage fees if the service was improved.

"I think the service is for the birds," said

Rausch. "When I first moved here, I complained all the time about to garbage. I gave up. That's why I don't complain anymore."

According to Harrelle, the transfer station should be operation by Monday, Nov. 9. He said it was being lead tested with 8x4x24 feet swimming pools filled with water early this week.

In other business, the commission was informed that the man assigned by the Municipal Code Corporation to examine the city ordinance code for revisions had died unexpectedly and the company had to assign another man to the case.

Opinion

"Yes you have to eat your liver. It's good for you. It puts iron in your blood."

Time not ripe

Before voters will vote enthusiastically for any major change in government, or major new expense — such as a revenue bond issue — they have to be thoroughly convinced that the change or new expense will benefit them in a major way.

According to the results of a straw ballot taken in Pahokee Oct. 27, voters are not sure that implementing a city manager form of government is in their best interest.

Although the vote was close, 150-138, Council Pres. George Rashley expressed the view that it is doubtful a binding referendum would be brought before voters or the council for the next few years.

It is perhaps best that voters (narrowly) rejected the city manager concept in the straw poll, at least for the time being.

While there is no doubt that a competent city manager could ease the burden on city council members, conversion to a new form of government would likely be more expensive.

For the time being, Pahokee is small enough that the current form of government should prove adequate for at least the next few years, and perhaps much longer.

In several years, the city may grow sufficiently and the financial climate improve enough to warrant a second ballot on the city manager form of government.

A city manager form of government may not be popular with Pahokee residents at this time, but city council members should not be discouraged from sending up another trial balloon in several years.

Military to assist anti-drug effort

Senate-House conference Friday, Oct. 30 came to an agreement which will allow U.S. military cooperation with civilian law enforcement agencies in the fight against drug smuggling.

The agreement amends the Posse Comitatus statute to permit the military to share drug-related intelligence derived from radar and other surveillance activities, to loan military equipment and facilities and to provide training and advice. These provisions were included in the Senate bill introduced by Senators Lawton Chiles of Florida and Sam Nunn of Georgia.

The House version also would have permitted military personnel to participate in arrests and seizures on the high seas, but the conferees instead compromised on language allowing use of naval ships as a staging area for a smuggling interdiction operation. Military personnel could not be involved in the actual interdiction and arrests.

Chiles explained that federal law enforcement agencies did not want such authority for the military. "I believe they were concerned that military personnel are not trained in such activities and that defective arrests would be detrimental to successful prosecution," he said.

The Florida senator said the military assistance will be "tremendously helpful. Frankly, the drug runners are better equipped by far than our civilian law people, using the latest speed boats, aircraft, electronic devices and communications. We're beginning to even up the odds."

JIM JONES

BOILER PLATE

My sand man

I'm a little bit worried about myself. On weekends, I turn on the television set, flip myself down in my favorite chair for an afternoon of college or pro football, and fall fast asleep.

The sound of bashing helmets is not suppose to have the same effect as a Brahms lullaby. I can't explain it, except that I do some of my best sleeping during televised football games.

I woke myself up this weekend long enough to call my brother-in-law in Jacksonville. It was during the Philadelphia-Dallas game.

Let me digress here to say that unlike the comestoes state that I prefer to watch TV sports in his view the game fully awake.

His yells at officials a lot and jumps up and down in his armchair. When you are a 236 pound ex-lineman, this kind of behavior can be very hard on chairs. We visit occasionally, and I really don't mind his rowdy behavior, except when it interrupts my sleep.

I sleep well on Monday nights too and I owe him a debt. After all, it was he who introduced me to Monday Night Football. That was back in 1969 or '70, when the lineup included Keith Jackson, Howard Cosell, and Dandy Don Meredith. I was younger then and I managed to stay awake throughout the game. I think the novelty might have had something to do with it too.

Now it is 1981 and things have changed a lot, including my viewing habits.

When I called my brother-in-law this weekend, he asked if I was watching the Philadelphia-Dallas game. I admitted that I had caught a glimpse or two of the game during previous episodes of consciousness.

Normally, I wake up just as the cameras are sweeping the sidelines where the cheerleaders are. The cameramen do that a lot these days, even though there are probably a few dis-hard fans who prefer instead to watch the chain crew during breaks in the action. Since my viewing habits are unorthodox, I don't mind the sideline shots. I certainly don't intend to write the networks and complain about them.

Having seen so little of the Philadelphia-Dallas game, I steered the conversation to other matters. We talked about his 11 year old son, who expects to become either a football player or a rock 'n' roll singer and my sister's Christmas shopping habits, but those are other stories. The one advantage of sleeping through the games is that it saves me from having to participate in a lot of Monday morning quarterbacking.

Like Mr. Aristotle once said, "The vigorous are no better than the lazy during one half of life, for all men are alike when asleep."

Mean Joe Green and I may have more in common than I had thought.

Television will be full of Florida football this weekend. Florida takes on Georgia and Florida State plays Miami.

Sounds exciting enough to jerk Rip Van Winkle or anyone else prone to sleeping through football games fully awake.

20 YEARS AGO "GLADES OBSERVER" NOVEMBER 9, 1961

R.F. Fisher, president of the Pahokee Chamber of Commerce, gave out some figures on growth of the education system in Pahokee as the chamber's part in observance of American Education Week.

Since 1950, Fisher said, thirty new classrooms had been added and a new gymnasium, industrial arts building, band room and cafeteria.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers warned all concerned that "because of drought conditions in the central Florida area full project depth of 8 feet was not at present available in the Lake Okechobee section of the Okechobee waterway."

Donations to six public welfare projects were voted by members of the Pahokee Woman's Club at a luncheon meeting held in the clubhouse with Mrs. B.R. Mosley, president, presiding.

The agencies to which the donations were voted were the Mental Health Clinic, Crusade for Freedom, Care Packages for distribution to the needy overseas, Pennie for Art, Seminole Indian Fund, and the Latin-American Scholarship Fund.

The three Pahokee chapters of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, through their city council organization sponsored an essay contest for Pahokee High School students during the first six week period of the second semester.

30 YEARS AGO THE EVERGLADES NEWS NOVEMBER 9, 1931

The third banking institution on the shores of Lake Okechobee was to open on Nov. 15, it was announced in Belle Glade. The Florida National Bank at Belle Glade was to open in temporary head quarters where the Scrabero ten cent store was located.

A series of three chapel programs were to be devoted to "National Education Week" in Pahokee schools, it was revealed by Principal D.D. Caudill.

A majority of the green snap beans moved from the Lake Okechobee farming region during the past seven day period and were rolled on trucks. There were 36 cars out by rail during that period and 106 trucks with each truck carrying the equivalent of a carload.

A classified ad in that weeks paper read: Wanted: Two girls between the ages of 21 and 25 to work in a restaurant and Bar-B-Q stand at South Bay. Must be neat, have a health card, or be able to get same, no "Jook" girls need apply. Will pay $10 per week and meals.

Mrs. Wade Ammons entertained a group of young people at a Halloween party. Games were enjoyed and followed by refreshments.

40 YEARS AGO THE EVERGLADES NEWS NOVEMBER 9, 1941

Contract for construction of a new high school at Belle Glade was awarded to Don Hillier and Son of Pahokee at a meeting of the county school board. The contract price was $60,143.00.

Mr. Hillier said he would start work as soon as material could be assembled on the ground. The school would include eight classrooms, two science rooms, a library study hall, administration section, teachers' lounge, combination gymnasium and auditorium and a book storage room.

Bids were to be received by the State Road Department at its regular Nov. meeting in Tampa for construction of the new road from Cardwell across to the Boom Point extension, according to County Commission Chairman Paul Rardin. The new road had been temporarily designated SR717A.

Scarcity of beans in the Lake Region was cause for unusually high prices during the week. One small lot of 100 hampers sold by Seth Roberts went for $5.85.

50 YEARS AGO THE EVERGLADES NEWS NOVEMBER 2, 1931

H.T. Williams of Pahokee took over the Chevrolet automobile agency in the western part of Palm Beach County from R.W. Sanders of Pahokee and leased the building that Mr. Sanders built and occupied. He also took over the Case tractor agency."

A limited number of persons who would agree to take care of phlox plants could get them from Professor H.L. Spoor after school. The phlox is an annual and seeds itself. The seed may be planted at any time.

Mr. and Mrs. William Griffiths drove down from Okechobee to view the bean fields along the highway.

"Uncle" Henry Brogdon had returned home after spending the past four months in Georgia and Alabama.

Canal Point teachers plan get-together with parents

Classroom teachers at Canal Point Elementary have been conducting group parent-conferences for the past month.

They stressed a need for parents to know the kinds of things their children are doing in school and also to learn more about how they can help at home to make their child's school experience successful.

Each teacher handled his own presentation to the parents, stressing curriculum, discipline, school procedures, and any concerns that each teacher may have.

Education week marks GCHS open house

BELLE GLADE - Parents of school children will have the opportunity to meet John Monroe, West Area School Superintendent, in the Glades Central Gymnasium, Tuesday, Nov. 10, at 7 p.m.

The school will hold an open house that night as part of National American Education Week. National American Education Week is Nov. 9 through 13.

Refreshments will be served.

Groundbreaking held

BELLE GLADE - The Apostolic Church, located on West Canal Street South, began work last week on a new educational facility.

Reverend J.P. Fald officiated at groundbreaking ceremonies late last week. In attendance at the ceremony were the students at the Christian Academy located at the church.

Facility should be completed and in operation for the opening of the 1982-83 school year next September, according to Fald.

Approximately 155 students attend the academy.

Beautification parade set for Saturday

BELLE GLADE - The Belle Glade Beautification Committee has scheduled its parade for Saturday, November 7.

The parade will start in front of Glades Central High School and move west on Canal street, off the Fifth Street bridge.

It will move down Fifth Street to Avenue A, which it will follow east to Main Street.

It will go south on Main to Avenue E, which it will march west onto to Lakeshore Elementary.

Herberto Suarez composed the winning slogan for the committee this year: "Don't be a kiddier about litter."

The slogan will be placed on posters.

Marlo Matos designed the winning poster. Both individuals may participate in the parade, which will also include a float featuring the winner of a Tidy Tim look-alike contest.

The parade is scheduled to start at 10 a.m.

Meeting prayer breakfast

The City Association of Women Clubs of Belle Glade and Pahokee will sponsor a Prayer Breakfast on Saturday morning, Nov. 7, in the dining room of Saint John First Baptist Church.

800 S.W. 8th St., Belle Glade.

This is a national project and all clubs in the United States are asked to participate.

Starting time will be at 8 a.m.

You are invited to bring a friend. A short meeting will follow the breakfast. The menu will consist of Continental Breakfast: donuts/rolls, coffee and orange juice.

Donation will be $1 per person.

Aluminum recycler visits

BELLE GLADE - November starts the holiday season, and collecting aluminum for recycling is an ideal way to earn cash for Christmas gifts.

Receive cash for your aluminum every Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon at the City Park, 500 W. Canal Street.

Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Company pays the public 23 cents a pound for all-aluminum beverage cans and other clean household aluminum items, and 20 cents a pound for other properly prepared aluminum.

Reynolds also pays 15 cents a pound for aluminum castings. All prices are subject to change without notice.

Many recyclers help to defray their holiday expenses by saving all kinds of aluminum items found in and around their homes.

MAKING HERSELF BEAUTIFUL for the American Cancer Society fashion show to be held December 5, 1981 is June Boglioli, Belle Glade City Clerk at the Town and Country shop owned by Virginia Anderson.

Mike Burdett, with Lake Hardware, captured the first place spot this week with an impressive 12 win and 2 loss record. This week also put Mike in first place in the overall standings with 60 wins and 25 losses. Can he keep this up?

Carter Chevrolet, represented by Brent Woodham, remained in second place this week in the overall standings with a 57-28 record and 10-4 for the week. Brent turned the forecasting over to Roy Browning for next weekends games to see if he can take the lead. Good luck Roy.

Slipping down to third place in the overall standings is C & C Supply, represented by Mike Norvell. C & C Supply now has an overall record of 55 wins and 30 losses. One big week for Mike could turn everything around.

Coming up from behind in third also is Frank Davis of Glade & Grove Supply with an overall record of 55 wins and 30 losses. Everyone else remains close behind. Anything can happen.

OVERTIME IS GETTING TO BE A HABIT for played five periods in overtime this the Christian Day Crusaders. They've year, including one last week.

Crusaders squeak by St. Edwards in overtime

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE - According to the rules of the game, football is supposed to be played in four quarters.

But the Christian Day Crusaders have tended to discard that rule in favor of the five and six period game.

Overtime is almost expected when they take the field.

So it should have come as no surprise when the score was tied 0-0 at the end of regulation play when the Crusaders hosted St. Edwards last Thursday.

The teams had met earlier in the season, and that contest, too, had gone into overtime before St. Edwards pulled it out.

This time the Crusaders had the home field advantage and the benefit of four overtime periods earlier in the season, so at the end of the fifth period, Christian Day had captured a 3-0 victory over St. Edwards.

"It was a pretty even ball game, neither one of us did much offensively," said Crusader Coach Woody Salvatore. "Our defense held the game for us. The offense made a lot of silly mistakes and was suddenly turned around 14-13 Chargers.

It was the same with them. If either one of us (Christian Day or St. Edwards) got moving, we were hit with a penalty."

The Crusaders recovered a St. Edwards fumble in overtime and drove to the 10 yard line. William Cruz was called in to kick a 29 yard field goal and the Crusaders won 3-0.

Cruz kicked the ball six times in the game for a total of 233 yards, an average of 38.3 per kick.

Luis Garcia was the Crusaders' "brightest spot" in the game, according to Salvatore. He caught two passes for 24 yards and a first down on offense, but it was on defense that his star really shone. He made 13 tackles, five sacks and broke up two St. Edwards pass plays.

The Crusaders travel to Boca Academy Saturday.

"They're big and they have a quick little boy who was leading the county in scores up until two weeks ago," said Salvatore. "They have real good speed on the outside. We'll have to stop the quick pitch and the option outside."

"When we play someone our own size, with about the same amount of guys playing both ways (offense and defense), I think we get stronger towards the end. We've been playing five quarters a game," Salvatore added.

ADVANCING FOR YARDAGE was rough for both teams in last week's contest between Belle Glade Christian and St. Edwards. The Crusaders won the game 3-0 in overtime.

Raiders lose 2nd straight game

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE - Three weeks ago, the Glades Central Raiders won their district. Immediately afterward, Coach Ben McCoy took sick leave.

When he came back at the end of the week, he knew that his team wasn't ready to play football. Since their title clinching victory against Atlantic three weeks ago, the Raiders haven't won a game.

In their last two contests, the Raiders have gone into the second half with substantial leads, only to blow them and lose the games.

Two weeks ago, Lake Worth traveled to Glades Central and left with the first victory over the Raiders since the opening game of the season.

Last week, Suncoast came to town. They found themselves down 13-0 in the third quarter, but stormed back with six points in the third and eight in the fourth to beat the Raiders 13-14.

"Blowing a 13 point lead in the third quarter, that's not like us," said McCoy. "I don't know what it is. We're going to sit down and talk about how they're thinking, what they're thinking about."

Randy Rutledge put the Raiders on the board in the first quarter when he ran the ball in from the seven. Rutledge carried the ball 22 times and picked up 189 yards. Jacob Rhames put the ball through the uprights for the extra-point.

In the second quarter, Rhames hit a field goal from 23 yards out and made the score 10-0. Tommy Duhart finished the Raider scoring in the third with a 31 yard field goal and the score was 13-0.

Then the Charger comeback started. Clyde Walton carried the ball in from the seven yard line, and after the conversion failed, it was 13-6.

In the fourth quarter, Charger Quarterback James Hunter went to the air and connected with Richard Relfford for a 60 yard TD pass. A two point conversion attempt succeeded and the score was suddenly turned around 14-13 Chargers.

The Raiders drove deep a couple times in the last quarter, but fourth down plays left them short of the first down twice.

When the last seconds had ticked off, the Raiders were losers for the second consecutive week.

"No tackling, that's all I have to say," said McCoy afterwards. "We didn't execute the entire second half either. I don't know what it is."

"We just aren't doing it," said Rutledge, who termed his own performance an "in between game."

The Raiders are on the road for the last two games of the regular season, traveling to Fort Pierce Westwood this Friday and Pahokee next week.

"We're going to brush up on our blocking and tackling," said McCoy.

The Raider's record is now at 5-3.

They will travel for the first game of the district playoffs to the winner of the Suncoast-Fort Pierce Central game.

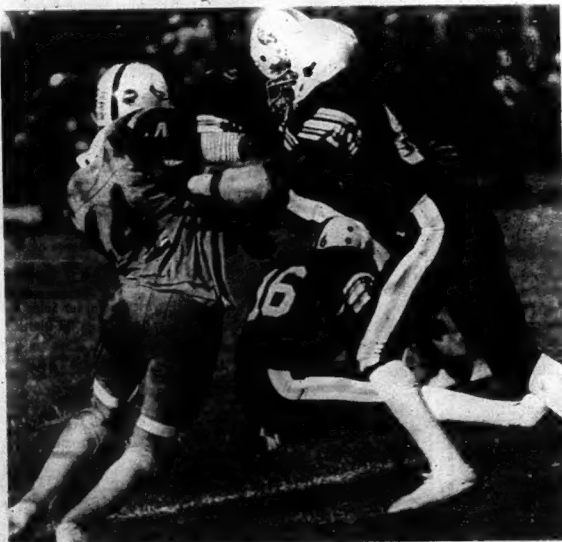

Snipe hunting for real

TALLAHASSEE -

Remember those tales of some greenhorn who got suckered into going on a nighttime "snipe hunt," complete with light and croaker sack? Well, forget those tales and head for the marshes around November 7 for snipe season gets underway then, and snipe hunting is for real.

Snipe hunting is a popular way for doggie wingshooters to get some good bird hunting in. The season on this migratory bird runs through February 21 with a possession limit of 16 and a daily bag of eight.

One of the real beauties of snipe hunting is the availability of the birds, say veteran snipe hunters with the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission. They can be found almost anywhere near a freshwater marsh, preferring boggy open land with no trees or thickets to interfere with your shooting.

THE CRUSHING RAIDERS DEFENSE hasn't been much in evidence the last two weeks as the Glades Central team lost two games in the second half. Last week, they lost 14-13 to Suncoast after entering building a 13-0 third quarter lead.

Gators swamp Westminster Academy 50-6

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE - Glades Day Gator Coach Byron Walker is upset. Last year's Class 1A state champions are not listed in any of the top 10 polls on state high school teams.

"Just because we lost to the number two 2A team and the number four 1A team, they don't want to give us credit," said Walker.

He's ready to change that this week, he said.

His team goes up against number nine ranked Frostproof at home this week.

"We'll do our best to knock the number nine team off and see if we can take someone's place," he said. If last week's game against Westminster Academy is any indication, Frostproof could be in trouble.

Walker had implied earlier in the week that he was looking beyond Westminster to Frostproof. But that didn't prevent his team from coming away from Westminster with a 50-6 victory.

The Gator ground attack was devastating.

Tobin VancSoy picked up three touchdowns and 128 yards in nine carries. Julio Rivas carried the ball five times and picked up 101 yards and a touchdown. Davy Haynes carried the ball seven times for one TD and 85 yards.

Glades Day was also successful when it went to the air.

Raul Garcia completed three of seven attempted passes for 69 yards, and connected with Richard Schiele for a 36 yard touchdown pattern.

When the teams came back to resume play in the second half, the score 36-0, Walker put the Junior Varsity team in.

Quarterback Brian Lohmann scored his first varsity TD and completed one of two passes for 12 yards.

Westminster couldn't find help from the Gator defense, either. Kent Connell led Glades Day with nine tackles, and it wasn't until the last play of the game that Westminster scored their only points of the game.

"Westminster wasn't a real tough opponent," said Walker. "But they didn't make any mistakes either. They couldn't have scored, but we got a pass interference call that was half the distance to the goal line and they just shot in from there."

The Gators weren't thinking about Westminster for two weeks, but they have been thinking about Frostproof for two weeks going into tomorrow night's 8 p.m. kickoff at Glades Day.

"I understand they have a lot of speed," said Walker. "They key to the game is to keep Barnett's hands off the ball."

Pahokee nips Immokalee

By JEFF BROWN

The Blue Devils scored just once last Friday. That was enough. The touchdown and extra point propelled the Pahokee gridiron squad past the Immokalee team 7-0, thanks to the help of a strong defensive unit.

The defense held the Immokalee offense scoreless despite three drives to within five yards of the goal line. Free-safety Wilbur Ramos picked up two interceptions, one at the Pahokee three-yard line with less than a minute to play in the game. He also made three tackles preventing TDs and knocked down three passes intended for Immokalee receivers.

"The defense contributed heavily to our win," said Blue Devil Coach Sandy Hyneman. "The offense was kind of sluggish." Quarterback Antonio Wilson completed just two of 13 passes for 18 yards and lost one to an interception.

Kenneth Rawls caught both of the Wilson passes for the 18 yard gain. Rawls picked up 58 yards with 10 carries.

Wilson also picked up 11 yards in four carries, while Jeffery Mullins picked up 127 yards and a touchdown in 19 carries.

Bernard Johnson rushed for 16 yards in five carries.

Basel Benjamin kicked the extra-point.

The score was tied at zero in the third quarter when Pahokee took possession of the ball at its own 35 yard line. Immokalee was called for a face mask penalty and in a six play series, Mullins carried the ball up field.

A penalty put the Devils back to the 20 yard line from which Mullins ran the ball in.

The Blue Devils are preparing for a home contest against Boca Raton this Friday. Kickoff is 8 p.m. According to Hyneman, Boca Raton has a "real fine quarterback and the best noseguard in the county."

Hyneman said that Pahokee may put up to five or six individuals on the guard.

"He's been giving everybody fits. If we don't double team him, we won't get our plays off. When he's ready, in the 100 per cent, he's just impossible to stop," said Hyneman.

Netherlands native spends academic year in Belle Glade

By JEFF BROWN

"Everything is different from what I'm used to," said Maarten Boers, 17, a native of the Netherlands. He is visiting the United States as part of a Rotarian sponsored student exchange program.

In Belle Glade since August 21, he will be attending Glades Day School all year, going back home in June, 1982.

Two Florida youths are in Europe with the Rotary program.

"You understand I'm not negative about these things, I'm just pointing out the differences," said Boers.

One of the biggest differences is the weather, according to Boers.

"I hear they had their first snow at home," he said. "The weather is cold and snowy there. One of the nicest things about here is the attractive climate. Warm temperatures generally."

He ice skates at home, but the closest ice skating rink to Belle Glade is in Boca Raton.

"We used to do long distance skating, and that's just a small rink (in Boca Raton), I think. I've never been there. It would not be much, it would not be the same," he said.

The people have been "extremely friendly," he said. "When I first came here, my English was not very good. They would take the time to listen and help me translate."

School was more difficult at home, he said, although he finds the American viewpoint of history an interesting contrast to what he learned in the Netherlands.

"It's not that it's different (factually), it's just that there, I'd never have been told that the Dutch were the first to bring Black slaves to the New World. That is not something we are proud of."

He considers the Dutch much more avid newspaper readers, and the Dutch newspapers much more thorough in their coverage.

"We elected a European government, and it was an important thing. Everybody wanted to read about it. Here, it was not mentioned much, it was not as important. You read a lot about the Middle East (in European newspapers). Here you only read about it when they shoot your places down," said Boers.

Boers said he is thinking of going out for the Glades Day basketball team this year.

"You have to join a club to play tennis or basketball or soccer (back home)," he said. "Here, you can do that with the people at your school. At home, that contact is broken and you are playing with different people."

He said he did not play basketball at home because it involved a seven mile bicycle ride home from school, then a seven mile ride on the bus to the club.

"It was a little too much," he explains. "Drivers' licenses cost almost $1,000 and most parents are not willing to pay that. Public transportation is more common there. I prefer my own transportation, but that is not always possible."

Tennis, soccer and basketball are common sports in the Netherlands - American football is not generally accepted.

"I'm starting to like football," said Boers, who added it took awhile to learn the game. "I wouldn't go out there on the field. Never in my life."

He said he finds baseball "a bit slow."

The family life differs greatly between the two countries also, according to Boers.

"At home, the family is tighter. We come home from school and work and we sit down and talk about the things that happened to us today. It depends a lot on the family, of course, but I think that is what a lot of American people are missing a bit," said Boers. "Of course, you get more free time here and more independence. That sort of goes together with the family not being as tight."

He said American families do not communicate as much even during the supper hour when most families are together. "It's hard to have a conversation when the television is blaring and Starkey and Hutch are doing this or doing that."

American television is loaded with commercials, something that embarrassed him the first time he watched it, he said.

"We have two channels," he said. "They come on at seven and go off at about 11:30 at night. At eight we have a half hour news show and before or after it, we have five minutes of commercials and that's all the commercials we have."

Maarten Boers

"Here, you start getting into the movie, this really good movie and they stop it for a commercial. Everybody gets up to get a drink and comes back and is ready for the movie. It took me a while to get used to, but now I'm drinking a lot more during commercials."

"People are willing to buy more here," he concluded.

"We have a lot of the same television shows as you have, and some of our own. Except for the commercials, it is just about the same," Boers said.

Americans and the Dutch listen to much the same music also, according to Boers, who said popular groups in the Netherlands include AC/DC, Van Halen, the B-52s and the Electric Light Orchestra.

"I've got the feeling that I'm accepted at school," said Boers. He's attended parties at his American classmates' homes and said they compare favorably with the parties in the Netherlands. "We have fun at parties. I love to go to parties."

The United States and the Netherlands vary greatly in many social areas, according to Boers. "Blacks here are still not equal. In the Netherlands they are," he said, pointing to the separate Black and White communities in many American towns. "We had that problem. It is solved now. A European is easier to accept someone different than an American is."

Dating is also approached differently in the European countries. "Here you have to make a date. You go pick her up and take her somewhere and by that time, it is something special," he said. "At home, we go to the tavern, the drinking age is 16 there but hardly anyone pays any attention to it, and you meet your friends and if you meet a girl and the two of you get along, you sit together and that's all there is to it."

Boers said he wants to become a chef or kitchen manager after he leaves school.

"It is not so much what you are as it is whether you are happy," said Boers.

The Netherlands has a social security system which guarantees an individual enough to live on if he or she doesn't have a job.

"It's pretty good so long as people don't start to use it with a bad purpose," said Boers.

He said the Netherlands has all the items Americans think of when thinking of Holland: windmills, dikes, tulips and wooden shoes.

"We have all of those things. The tulips are really in two big areas and one small one. And the only people who wear wooden shoes are farmers. They wear them because if they don't and the animals step on their feet, they hurt. With a wooden shoe, it doesn't hurt," he said.

"Most of the land is below sea level. About 65 percent is below sea level. Dikes were built and windmills put beside them which pumped the water into the ocean. Most of that land is agricultural. Most of what we eat comes from ourselves."

Boers is living with Roy and Lydia Burch in Belle Glade for another two weeks, when he moves to the residence of the Rupert "Bubba" Mock family. Three months later, he moves to another "house-parents" residence.

"I've had a fantastic time here," said Boers. "I really like it. Some of what I talked about, it may sound negative, but it's not. It's just different. Everything is different from what I'm used to."

Scheffler honored with retirement party by AREC

BELLE GLADE—Edgar Willard Scheffler was honored in a retirement party by the staff and faculty at the Agricultural Research and Education Center (AREC) on Oct. 30.

Scheffler, who has worked for the AREC since 1935, was presented with a cane knife by Dr. J.M. Good, Center Director with the inscription "Willard Scheffler, in recognition of outstanding Service 1935-1981, AREC, Belle Glade."

Willard's co-workers presented him with a ham-mock and a circular picnic table so that he could make his well-deserved leisure time more enjoyable.

Dr. J.R. Crockett and the AREC faculty presented Scheffler with a photo and letter album.

Mr. Scheffler is a native of Louisiana and has been a member of the Agricultural Research and Education Center staff and a resident of Belle Glade for over 46 years.

He came to the station as a Field Assistant to work in sugarcane research in Dec. 1935. After spending some time assisting F.D. Stevens, he changed over to the position of mechanic. He was promoted to shop foreman in March of 1970.

Mrs. Allison said of Scheffler: "I know so well how Dr. Allison trusted and relied on you, and if it was an emergency, you were always on the job."

Tommy Forsee, former director of the station said "It really does not seem as if it has been very long ago that we met a handsome young Cajun at the Everglades Experiment Station, driving a little Austin and courting a pretty young lady in the big town of Chosen."

Dr. J.M. Good reflected how Scheffler had been with the station through the good and the bad years and had helped to rebuild the station after the great storm of 1928 when most people feared to live in the Everglades. He said few had witnessed or had such a great role in developing the Everglades as had Scheffler.

Scheffler and his wife Katherine have three children: Charles P., 41; Thomas G., 36; and Kathy J., age 30.

WILLARD SCHEFFLER (middle) is presented with a ham-mock as a retirement gift by fellow employees of the Agricultural Research and Education Center. Shown with Scheffler are, from left, Maceo Goufon who has worked with Scheffler for the past 48 years and W.C. Standford, who has worked with him since 1949.

Ghosts, goblins witches invade Glades area

On Halloween, all the dead are supposed to rise from their graves.

The Glades proved to be a haunt for those awakened spirits last weekend as many churches and schools proved to be possessed by miniature ghosts, witches and even replicas of the Empire State Building (including King Kong, of course).

Schools and churches which held Halloween carnivals for their younger, and older, patrons last week included Christ the Day School, St. Peter's Lutheran, Belle Glade Elementary, Glades View Elementary, Gove Elementary, Canal Point, and the First Baptist Church of South Bay. On the previous weekend, Glades Day School held their annual Halloween fest.

Even those not intending to attend a carnival were often confronted with the unexpected. Bankers dressed up as vampires (blood-suckers and high interest rates), tellers dressed as playboy bunnies, clowns, ghosts or even money trees and bank presidents found out-houses in their offices (without the mortgage).

And what's a haunted evening without a few dark clouds and bad weather? The rain may have forced many children under shelter, but it didn't dampen the festivities.

I BID YOU WELCOME! Bank of Belle Glade First Vice-President H.D. Rowland did his impression of that infamous count last Friday, Oct. 30. There were no reports on how many took out loans from Mr. Rowland Friday.

It was the traditional Boy Scout way to end a weekend camping trip and to observe Halloween by sitting around the "61 campfire" munching on Halloween goodies supplied by the troop leaders and sharing ghost stories.

At the end of the Oct. 30-31 weekend scouts from Clewiston Troop 691, Maniara Ranch Troop 667, Belle Glade Troop 662, and Pahokee Troop 661 had earned badges and patches in

The troops had assembled at Pine Lake in Maniara Ranch Estates for their annual district camparee.

This year's theme was "Save Our American Resources" and dealt with conservation. The scouts attended conservation programs put on by the Fish and Game Commission and the Florida Division of Forestry. They also got to hike, swim, canoe, and build fire breaks.

The AS scouts also studied the Scouting outdoor code which they promised to do their best in keeping the outdoors clean, build safe campfires, and practice good conservation.

Several fathers attended the weekend camparee and leaders Walter Duke 667; Bob Christianson and Cliff Ramsey 691; Rick Austin 661; and Bill Burr, Tom Yancery troop 622 and Bill Schoenfeld and Glenn Blair—pack 622, kept the scouts busy.

The next outing for the scouts will be the annual council camparee in Spring said Rob Carver, district Boy Scout executive.

ROB CARVER, district executive of the Gulf Stream Council of the Boy Scouts, heads for lunch.

Pvt. Dudley A. Clark, son of A. Clark of 146 S.W. 10th Ave., and Dasy Clark of 270 S.W. 10th Ave., both of South Bay, has completed a Vulcan crewman course under the One Station Unit Training (OSUT) Program at the U.S. Army Air Defense School, Fort Bliss, Texas.

During their training, students learned all phases of the firing and tracking systems of this air defense system.

The Vulcan is a 20mm automatic six-barrel gun mounted on a self-propelled armored personnel carrier and is designed primarily for anti-aircraft defense.

OSUT combines basic training and advanced individual training.

He is a 1981 graduate of Belle Glade Central High School.

PVT. FINISHES BASIC

BELLE GLADE -
Pvt. Wilbert Adams III recently finished his basic training at Fort Benning, Georgia. Graduation exercises were held on Oct. 29.

Wilbert earned a blue cord in Infantry. The name of his company was "Charlie Cougars."

Wilbert is a 1981 graduate of Glades Central Community High School.

He is the son of Wilbert Adams Jr. of 6648 S.W. Ave. D, Belle Glade and Mrs. Patricia Adams of 410 Jimmy Low Court, South Bay.

He is the third generation of his family to be a part of the U.S. Army.

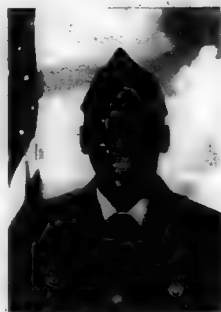

His overseas assignment is Honolulu, Hawaii, for 18 months.

AUNAPU PROMOTED TO LIEUTENANT COLONEL

Donald S. Aunapu, son of Elizabeth Wilbanks of 1809 W. Lake Road, Belle Glade, has been promoted in the U.S. Air Force to the rank of lieutenant colonel.

Aunapu is an air operations officer and pilot at Hahn Air Base, West Germany, with the 50th Tactical Fighter Wing.

He is a 1975 graduate of Columbia College, Mo.

LIVING SOUND

Group to perform at Methodist church

Living Sound, an internationally known music missionary group will be presenting a concert in Belle Glade on the 8th of November, 1981 at the Community United Methodist Church at 6:30 p.m.

Living Sound International is an aggressive music missionary organization that uses contemporary Christian music as a tool to reach people for Christ.

Terry Law, President and founder of the organization, formed Living Sound Team 1 in 1969. Today there are four teams ministering in 40 countries around the world in concerts, crusades, rallies and church services.

Through unusual circumstances Living Sound has had two major doors of ministry flung wide open to it. In August of 1981, Living Sound received international recognition when they performed in St. Peter's Square at the invitation of Pope John Paul II. Their relationship with the leader of 700 million Catholics worldwide has given them an open door into many countries which before had been closed to the Gospel.

The group's other ministry door began opening in 1972 when they accepted an invitation to perform a concert at a "youth gathering" in Poland. They were surprised to hear the event was a fund raising benefit for the Youth Communist Party.

The Team boldly proclaims the Gospel and the result was an overwhelming response that confirmed their call to the Communist world.

Since then, Living Sound teams have ministered in eight evangelistic tours in Poland and four in the Soviet Union.

Their ministry also includes several other Eastern European Communist countries.

The Bamboo Curtain will be the next frontier for the group. Religious persecution in Red China is at its lowest point, thus opening the door for revival.

Future plans for Living Sound include city-wide open-air meetings throughout the country of Poland, and large crusades in Mexico sponsored by the Roman Catholic Church.

These activities are directed from two training missionary bases, the European headquarters in Malmesbury, Wiltshire, England and the United States headquarters in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Cooks Corner

LAVERNE GRANTLIN

Secretary for Planned Parenthood, a national nonprofit organization, Laverne has worked at that position for over two years.

LaVerne is married to Clifford, they have two boys, Clifford Jr. and Jeremy, and they live in Pahokee. She enjoys traveling and reading Harlequin books.

LaVerne's Pina Colada Cake is non-alcoholic except for one cup of light rum.

PINA COLADA CAKE

one pkg. two-layer-size regular yellow cake mix (no pudding) one, three and three-fourths or three-and-five-eighths ounce pkg. of instant vanilla pudding mix one-half cup of non-alcoholic pina colada bottled drink mix one cup light rum
one-third cup cooking oil four eggs
one-half cup flaked coconut one qt. pineapple sherbet
one, eight and one-fourth ounce can crushed pineapple, drained

In a large mixer bowl, combine cake mix, pudding mix, pina colada mix, one-half cup of the rum, the cooking oil, and eggs. Blend well. Beat at medium speed of electric mixer for two minutes. Fold in coconut. Pour into well-greased and floured ten-inch fluted tube pan. Bake in 350 degree oven for 30 to 35 minutes. Cool 15 minutes in pan. Invert onto rack; cool thoroughly. Soften sherbet; blend in one-half cup rum. Fold in pineapple; freeze. Serve atop cake slices.

Permission to speak

By Representative William G. "Doc" Myers, M.D.

Over the past two years, there have been several times when even bonds for the financing of school construction which are backed by state license tag money as well as utility gross receipts tax revenue were unobtainable because of the bond market. Bond interest rates are high. The Legislature has had to go to a floating interest rate based on 150 points over the bond buyer's index. Needless to say, the bond market is not a good one for those who pay interest — the taxpayer.

Last session, the governor trotted out his "Save Our Jails" program, a bond program providing $381 million to build jails or reimburse counties who have built jails in the last few years. The cost — $1 billion, also needless to say, the legislature killed it.

Prior to that, we had the "Save Our Rivers" program to be financed by the 5 cent increase in the documentary stamp tax and to be used by the Water Management Districts to purchase wetlands, recharge areas as well as water source areas. That stood on its own and was widely supported in the Legislature.

Now we have "Save Our Coasts". This is a $100-$200 million bond program to be financed by the Land Acquisition Trust Fund for the accelerated purchase of sensitive barrier areas which would include beaches and barrier islands as well as beach accesses. The Land Acquisition Trust Fund is financed by 1/7th of the revenues from the documentary stamp tax. It is estimated that $38.3 million will be available to that total fund in 1982-83. 1981-82 figures amount to $31.5 million. However, recent slumps in the sale of real estate have already begun to erode such projections. The Land Acquisition Trust Fund also expends money for state park operations and improvements as well as debt service on revenue bonds.

According to the Governor, he and the Cabinet are given authority to "issue such bonds" by Article XII, Section 9 of the Florida Constitution (a Constitutional Amendment approved in 1972), authority that was previously granted to issue revenue bonds "to acquire lands, water areas, and related resources in furtherance of outdoor recreation, natural resources conservation and related facilities", was reinstated. In this manner, the Governor feels that he doesn't need Legislature review, but even members of his own party have questioned both the right to issue bonds and of course, the timing of another bond issue.

The Governor presents statistical evidence that, paying such high interest rates is offset in view of the inflationary price of beach proper-

"Litter Hurts Everyone"

At a native Floridian, it makes me sick to see the increased litter and trash thrown out along our highways. I do not understand the mentality of the people who do this. Can't the state do something about keeping litter off the roadways?

S.V.T., Tampa, FL

The Florida Department of Transportation is responsible for litter removal on the state-maintained highway system of approximately 11,869 miles. Like everything else, it costs money... your tax money... to remove this litter.

Motorists threw away $2,186,218.37 in roadside litter during the 1979-80 Fiscal Year (latest total figure available). This figure, coupled with the costs of $1,333,945.47 for roadside sweeping of other debris, brought the total cost for roadside cleanup to $3,520,163.84. That same level of this type maintenance for FDOT. Funds are so limited, aesthetic maintenance such as litter removal and mowing are necessarily kept to a minimum. Conceivably, had the state been able to maintain former high levels of roadside maintenance, the cost could have been twice as high.
